This Week's Activities

Math: We began our Saxon math! As we learn the number songs, please help your scholar practice each song to write the number and feel free to use the number sheet to finger trace over the number for writing practice. 😊

We sing the numbers songs to the tune of “Skip to My Lou”. For example-number one-Come straight down and that is all, come straight down and that is all, come straight down and that is all. That’s how you write the number one.

This week the scholars explored teddy bear counters and pattern blocks. Throughout the school year Saxon math sheets will have a parent activity that is attached to the math lesson. When there is a parent lesson please do that activity with your scholar. Parent lessons do not need to be returned to me!

Reading: Our theme was friendship so I read books about being a friend.

Social Studies: The scholars identified and discussed the qualities of a good friend. They are learning how to make friends and how to be a friend.

Science: The scholars identified how our friends are the same and how they are different.

Art in the classroom: The scholars used watercolor paints to paint a rainbow fish. The scholars worked with friends on a friendship mural. They used their coloring skills and learned how to use crayons to shade.

Daily folders: Please remember to check the folder daily. Please remove any papers that were sent home, sign the behavior chart and please check for any notes from me. If I did write a note home it would be appreciated if you would reply back to my note. If you write me a note, please write “see note” on the calendar. Thanks so much!

This is a reminder to please label your scholar’s belongings, this includes sweaters. We have a scholar who is missing a girl’s navy blue Docker sweater. Could you please check your scholar’s backpack or check at home as it might have been inadvertently put in the wrong backpack. Thank you so much!

Religion: Mrs. Dahlgren started the religion series Allelu! Those will come home for you to share with your scholars on Friday’s.

I included a prayer sheet. It contains our lunch prayer God Our Father and two other prayers we say daily. The hardest part for your scholars is to make the sign of the cross and to use prayer hands. Hopefully this sheet can give you some guidance to practice these prayers at home.

Have a great weekend! Mrs. Bauer
